How to Gain in Weight.
A gentleman, rather remarkable for his obesity, was asked where he obtained his meals, as the bill of fare must be exceedingly good, since he appeared to be growing larger and larger every day. The prompt reply was "At the Continental Saloon, next door to the Post Office, Fifth street, which is kept by that prince of epicures—Holtzheimer." The answer was pert and to the point, for at the Continental the best meals to be obtained in the city are daily served up at the most reasonable of prices. Game—the rarest, steaks, fish, and everything to tempt the palate, are served up in a better style than could Professor Blot indicate, and if you eat one meal gotten up by Holtzheimer, at a few minutes' notice, you will forever bestow your patronage on this place alone.

Protestant Association Anniversary.

THETA DELTA CHI CONVENTION.

Speaker Colfax and Southern Relief.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

New York, April 19.—The American Protestant Association celebrated the three hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of the signing of the famous protest, by a meeting at Cooper Institute, this evening. Mr. Nicholson, the Chairman, made a brief introductory address, concluding by throwing down the gauntlet to the Fenians. Subsequently other speakers addressed the meeting. The attendance was large and the proceedings marked by great enthusiasm.

The twentieth annual convention of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity was held at the Astor House to-day. About fifty delegates from all parts of the Union were present, the leading universities and professions being represented. The special business of the convention this year was to take measures for the organization of Southern chapters of the fraternity and the restoration of the social intercourse and good feeling that existed before the war.

To-morrow the Convention will listen to an oration from Judge Morris, of Brooklyn, to be followed by a poem from John Brougham.

Speaker Colfax is to lecture in this city for the Southern Relief fund.

The Riot Relief Committee have sent to the police board $3,000 to be divided among the officers wounded in suppressing the riot on St. Patricks day.

The steamer Havana has been withdrawn from the route to Havre for want of adequate complement of cargoes and passengers.

It is contemplated to erect one hundred and twenty-five drinking fountains in this city the coming summer.

PEABODY EDUCATIONAL FUND.

Mode of Applying the Charity.

New York, April 19.—Dr. B. Sears, general agent of the Peabody educational fund, has issued a circular, giving a somewhat detailed statement of the mode in which the trustees of the fund propose to apply the charity committed to their charge. He says the direct aim of the agent will be to economize and aid the common schools in the South, established, supported and superintended by the Southern people themselves. Apart from this leading object the founding and maintenance of schools will not come within the plan. Usually appropriations in moderate amounts will be made, when schools are languishing or liable to be suspended for want of means of support. Similar aid, if solicited, will be given in places unsupplied with schools, whenever the citizens shall introduce them and undertake their support. All such aid to be regarded as temporary. In selecting schools to be aided, and places to be supplied with them, those will be preferred in which the destitution is the greatest and the number to be benefitted the largest. Normal schools, or schools having normal departments, will receive particular attention. By such a number of these, furnishing the most perfect models of instruction, will be considered the most important than larger numbers of inferior character. Here, also, it is the purpose of the agent to aid others in their work, and not to assume the support of such schools. Appropriations will be made only when the conditions stipulated between individuals or corporations and the general agent have been strictly complied with. Funds will not be given to literary or professional schools, as such. Applicants will make as large use of the least possible amount necessary to meet their wants, and report the same at once to Dr. Sears, General Agent, or John E. Ames, General Traveling Agent, Atlanta, Ga. Special arrangements may sometimes be made with these for the purpose of encouraging industrial arts or the education of teachers. The agent will not identify his efforts with any other association, by placing funds at the disposal of its managers; but in any connection he may hold with benevolent or religious societies, he will pursue his own specific object by such means and agencies as he shall deem best. At present there will be no agencies except a few in which services will be rendered gratuitous. The agent will not, except in a few exceptional cases, have recourse to public teachers. He can, therefore, aid such in obtaining places only by giving their names to the School Committees.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Nicaragua Claims Against the United States—The War Between Brazil and Buenos Ayres.

New York, April 19.—Advices from Greytown, Nicaragua, to the 10th inst., state that the new President had appointed Gen. Ion Thomas Martinez as Minister to England. It is understood his mission will have reference to the settlement of the claims of the Republic against the United States for damages done by the Walker raids and the Greytown bombardment.

Advices from Rio Janerio to March 12th, and Buenos Ayres to February 26th, state that Marquis Caxias, who commanded the allies, and Lopez, Paraguayan President and Commander, are both busily entrenching and fortifying. The Brazilian officers are continually returning to Rio, perfectly disgusted with the war.

The enlistment of slaves in Brazil continued and thousands of wealthy planters are making presents of large numbers to the government.

A fight took place at Turapaity, on the second of February, in which all the iron clads but one and the land forces all around the line were engaged. The allies of the Paraguayans are supposed to have been severe, although no lodging was effected by the attacking party.

Proposals for peace by the American Minister are being seriously considered, although not well received at first.

The Brazilian navy on the La Platta consists of thirty-two vessels, with one hundred and forty-eight guns and four thousand men.

The United States steamers Shamokin and Kansas were at Buenos Ayres.

United States Senate—Extra Session.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Washington, April 19, 1867.

Mr. Wilson has returned to the Senate.

Mr. Henderson offered a resolution providing that there be printed for the Senate twenty thousand copies of the report of the Secretary of the Interior, giving information of the number, location, &c., of the various Indian tribes, and five hundred for the use of the War Department. Referred to Printing Committee.

The Senate then went into executive session.

On motion of the doors, Mr. Anthony offered a resolution, which was adopted, for the appointment of a committee to wait on the President and inform him that unless he have some further communication to make the Senate would adjourn to-morrow at 4 o'clock.

The chair appointed Messrs. Fessenden and Johnson such committee.

The Senate then resumed executive session.

At a subsequent stage of the proceedings, Mr. Anthony, from the above named Committee, reported they had performed the duty assigned, and the President requested them to inform the Senate that he would to-day make some further executive communications, but, at present, he knew no reason why the Senate should not adjourn at the time fixed.

Senate took a recess from five o'clock until half-past seven o'clock.

Express Car Burned—Narrow Escape of Express Messengers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

New York, April 19.—The express car of the last night's express train west, on the Erie road, took fire near Cheming Station from sparks from an engine, and was totally destroyed. The contents, consigned to parties west, was in care of the United States and Merchants Union Express Company. Loss, $20,000. The safes containing money and packages were saved. The express messengers had a narrow escape.

New York Trade Strikes.

New York, April 19.—All the carpenters, except about 500 journeymen, have returned to work at four dollars per day. Those who are still striking are taking subscriptions to the fund wherewith they intend starting in the city a co-operative carpenter shop.

The Plasterers' Association will not ask an increase of wages if the Governor signs the eight hour law.

The Tailors have denounced the employers who will not yield the two hours shorter time on Saturday's, which they demanded.

State Aid for the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad—A Prize Case Decided.

Boston, April 19.—The House Committee on Railroads unanimously reported the out in favor of granting the State credit for $2,000,000 to the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad.

Judge Lowell, of the United States District Court, has decided that the Clyde built steamer Nyraga, captured in Ashley river, near Charleston, when Charleston surrendered, and which was brought to this port and condemned as a prize, belongs to the government, and not to the blockading fleet. As claimed by the government, her capture was made within the result of the army besieging as the navy.

First of the Season.

Buffalo, April 19.—The schooner Republic, inward bound from Chicago, is the first through the ice to clear water last evening. She is the first vessel from Buffalo this season. A boat arrived from Detroit this afternoon.

Repudiation.

Bondholders tremble. Men who sustained our Government with their hard earned wealth, during the trying hours of rebellion, will, doubtless, be pleased to read the following epigram which we take from the Mobile Tribune:

"Only let the cry of 'Down with the money aristocracy,' be skillfully and persistently kept up in a country like the late United States, and there will be the mischief to pay in a very short time.

"It was by such a cry that the hosts of Abolitionism were mustered for the overthrow of southern institutions. There is, as Mr. Johnson remarked, a new aristocracy, and one of the most odious character, erected on the ruins of that which has been overthrown. Slavery has been, it is true, planted under the new concern, and there are many workers at the end of it. Less than a year ago 'Brick' Pomeroy asserted that lever, to the horror of hundreds of his own party, not a man of whom dared then to lend a helping hand for the purpose of crying out against the assertion of the hour.

"Now there are upwards of a hundred papers tugging cheerfully on the lever's end, and the whole fabric of the moneyed aristocracy of land at Castle Garden afford material from which to gather strength for this movement.

"The negro vote, which is a fixed fact, may and will be turned in the same direction. Let it be explained to the negroes that out of every 400 pounds of the cotton raise they only get 100 pounds, while the rich cotton master gets more clear profit from the negro's labor than his former master ever got, and he lives as a gentleman in New England, and has a sectional hostility to his negro face, so long as he puts into his pocket fully one-third of all his nigger earns. Everybody in the South has been taught to look to fare when their masters did not live on the plantations with them, to see that they were properly clothed and not overworked, and received necessary attention when sick. The negroes have changed master and mistress terribly against the bargain. And they have not got for master the north by whose flighting they became free, but the man who has sat down at home and had blank substitutes kicked into the ranks with 'Down with the aristocratic bondholders!' That is the battle-cry of the party that has entered the field against it. Verily, 'whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad.'"

Kidnapping Girls.

The police records make us acquainted with the alarming fact that within the last three weeks no less than six girls are known to have been carried away from our houses in this city for the worst purposes. How many more cases of the same kind have occurred which are unknown to the public, is a matter of terrible conjecture. The crime of kidnapping children and young girls has increased lately to a frightful extent, and the agency of foreign, and ranks of the most wicked and abandoned class are constantly recruited from among the vilest outcasts of society both in town and country. It is one of the most hideous qualities of the social evil that, Moloch like, it is perpetually drawing new victims into the fatal gulf. Offices and houses of infamy in this nefarious traffic, sad as it may seem, are women, who, under pretences of the most plausible nature, are able to succe d in tempting youth and innocence to take the first step in a career of sin and shame. It is enough that a single victim out of the thousands of fourteen can be snatched up in the middle of the day in our crowded streets, and carried to a place secure from the interference of the police. Death itself is less dreadful than the fate into which these unfortunate girls are plunged, with little chance of reclamation. Parents will dread to let their children run at large if such glaring crimes can go undetected. The public fear of evil is, indeed, more prevalent than is generally supposed. The public hear of only a few accidental cases, for the reason that the deed cannot be hid. The friends of a girl thus lost are naturally anxious to keep their sorrow quiet, and avoid the implied disgrace that attaches to such a misfortune. But even at the risk of wounding private feelings, it would be safer for the public generally that the frequency of this infamous practice should be known, that fair and wide, that all may be on their guard against the villainous agents who stalk abroad in daytime on our streets, and whose accomplices lurk unsuspected in almost every village in the land, for the express purpose of decoying souls to perdition. It will be dreadful to know the authorities cannot very materially mitigate, if not altogether prevent this appalling danger.—N. Y. Sun.

—Montana dates to the 14th ult. are received. The Helena Post tells of terrible suffering in that section in February. One child spelt a man named Archie McCurtis was frozen to death on horseback near Bannock, and five other men had their limbs so badly frozen that amputation became necessary. The temperature ranged from 46 to 57 degrees below zero.

—Charles Balmer, of Oil City, while sinking a couple of wells in that borough, struck a stratum of curious clay, varying from a light yellow to a bluish grey. It is supposed to be a fine quality of potters' clay.

Sydney Howard Gay is nominated for United States Assessor in the 19th District of New York.

FROM MEXICO.

Contradictory Reports Concerning Maximilian—The Fight at Queretaro—An Eight Hours Engagement—Attempted Revolution in Lower California.

San Francisco, April 19.—The egress of Maximilian's forces, without giving battle, and Juarez's federal forces being in possession is confirmed. Several engagements took place in the vicinity of the capital, but they were not of a decisive character. The fighting on the 14th ult. lasted eight hours, and resulted in driving the Imperialists from their strongest positions. The Liberal force is 26,000; Imperial 19,000.

Placido Vega was at Mazatlan four days in disguise, conspiring with political friends, and impressed the belief that the party in Sinaloa would proclaim him governor. The arms taken from here by Vega were hidden in the mountains, except a small portion given up to Gen. Parras.

Letters from Lower California give an account of an attempted revolution at Gaston.

Dartwig, on April 1st, landed at Lapaz from Mazatlan, and was proclaimed at Sarrocento. Colonel Gaxiola, the Liberal commander, with a force of 300 men, marched from the former place by the next steamer with two hundred men, and reinstate himself governor of the territory. The steamer from San Jose towards Lapaz. Dartwis enlisted a few Navatrette adherents, took San Antonio by surprise and made prisoners of the officials.

From San Antonio he went to Lapaz, attacked the house of the Governor, and burned. The surrounding people, under Dartwis' small band fled, were pursued and overtaken, and Dartwis ordered to be shot on the 9th of April. According to the facts stated, the petty revolutionists contemplated a scheme of plunder, and, in the event of success, would have made the American residents suffer among the rest. His designs were not countenanced by the Juarez government. The story coming from Senor Navarette is without foundation.

New Orleans, April 19.—Advices from Matamoras to the 13th inst., report that the Liberals captured Puebla and Maximilian offered to surrender, but his overtures were rejected, the Liberals refusing to grant the terms demanded by him.

Treasure and Flour from California.

San Francisco, April 18.—The steamer Sacramento, from Panama, sailed to-day with $1,000,000 treasure, of which $419,500 was for New York. The ships Aurora, for New York, with thirty-nine thousand sacks of wheat; H. Robinson, for Liverpool, with thirty-eight thousand do; Ship Matthew Cook, eleven thousand do; Aurora and Aurcola, for New York, cleared to-day. The ships Aurcola and Aurcola carry fifteen thousand barrels of flour, equally divided.

Lawlessness in Kentucky—Union Candidate for Lieut. Governor Prevented Speaking.

Maysville, Ky., April 19.—The Hon. R. T. Baker, Union candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was prevented from speaking at Germantown to-day, by a gang of returned rebels. He was warned that violence would be done him if he made the attempt. Part of the town was burned.

Southern Press Convention.

Atlanta, April 19.—The Southern Press Convention, after a session of seven days, three days, adjourned sine die at one this afternoon, to meet at Augusta next year. The existing arrangement with the New York Associated Press continues.

Cession of Lower California.

New York, April 19.—The Hartford Courant says as soon as Maximilian is out of Mexico a strong pressure will be brought to bear upon the Juarez government for the cession of Lower California to the United States.

Extra Session of Illinois Legislature.

Chicago, April 19.—Advices say it is understood that Governor Oglesby has determined to call an extra session of the Legislature, though the exact time has not yet been designated.

A Sucker Swindled.

New York, April 19.—Samuel K. Hanson, of Fulton county, Illinois, en route for California, was swindled out of $1,100 in a confidence game, by two men, on the cars between Buffalo and this city.

Our Aldermen—Torturing of the Law.

Some of our magistrates seem not to know the fact that imprisonment for debt in this country was long since abolished. It so seems from the fact that these dignitaries almost daily make use of the criminal law to enforce the collection of debts, taking advantage of the ignorance of parties when it is their duty to protect them in their rights. Judge McClure called this "torturing the law," and denounced the practice in strong terms. It is only a few days since that an attorney, an active practicing member of the bar, brought a charge of false pretense against a client to enforce the collection of a "ten dollar fee," the offense consisting in a promise and subsequent refusal to pay. The case was entertained by a magistrate who is serving his third term of five years. The information was made by the attorney, the magistrate issued a warrant, and the accused, not knowing his rights and acting under a fear of further trouble, which he was told would otherwise ensue, such as going to jail or being obliged to appear for trial in the Criminal Court, paid the ten dollars, also the magistrate's costs, thus satisfying his accuser and bad adviser, and the convenient instrument, the magistrate.

A strong instance of a man suffering for his ignorance. Also, an illustration of the manner in which some of our magistrates torture the law, prostitute their high office, to enrich themselves and injure poor men poorer. If the case referred to had obtained a single element of false pretence, it was the duty of the magistrate to return it for trial before the proper tribunal, otherwise to dismiss it at the cost of the prosecutor—a duty which his long experience would indicate he knew well where, as an old attorney, if the "bar committee" were not remiss in signing his certificate for admission. What was the incentive to such a course of proceeding? Is it not obvious? The attorney got his fee, and could not have otherwise collected it; the magistrate got his costs, and whether taked in accordance with the fee bill the defendant did not stop to inquire, feeling, through the "judicial representation" made to him, that he was under obligations for the opportunity allowed him to settle the matter. How does the law provide for such—what shall we term it? Is it not misdemeanor in office?

We have said this is an illustration of the administration of law by some of our magistrates, and can demonstrate the fact. Do they not almost daily entertain charges of "obtaining board under false pretences," and yet we cannot point to a single one of them having been brought to trial in Court, or of the offender being punished by fine or loss of office. More recently "larceny as bailee" has become a favorite charge, characterized by the same liberal procedure. It sometimes occurs that parties are committed to prison, in effect imprisonment for debt, but invariably for a "further hearing," and the case ends there. In this case is not afterwards heard of. That such manner of doing business is unlawful, and that the law should be checked by indictment and punishment of the criminal, such offenders, cannot be questioned. That such strong and oppressive should have been tolerated so long, is a matter of surprise. Years ago, when the "disorderly business" became so abused by the gain by Aldermen fond of "good living," a weakness not entirely peculiar to the office, it became necessary as a matter of reform to take away the fees, whereupon thousands of dollars have been saved to the County Treasury. The next movement should be to prevent the fleecing from the poor and unfortunate, which being done there would be a greater degree of the source of supply in the other direction has been cut short. The fact of a magistrate's income depending on police business, as indicated by the number of cases reported as transpiring before him, is not evidence in every instance of its efficiency, the public good, but in many cases the reverse. The public can be advised at by observing closely the nature of the cases entertained, the "hearings" given, the "bonds required" and "sureties" as bailee. We will dilate further on this subject at another time.

The Washington County Murder—The Alleged Murderers Taken to Washington Jail.

Yesterday Sheriff Cluley took the two prisoners, John Bird and Thomas Whittaker, who are charged with complicity in the Sproull murder, to Washington county, for a hearing there. We thought it strange from the beginning that the prisoners were held here and that the matter was taken entirely from the authorities of the county in which the murder was perpetrated. It appears that as soon as the foul deed was known in Washington, the police here were notified, and an information was ordered to be obtained was forwarded to our detectives, and the authorities in Washington were informed that the parties now accompanied charged against the people of Washington arose from this fact, and not from any difference in the degree of the crime. There has been a reward of two thousand dollars offered for the arrest of the murderers by a relative of the victim living in Mount Pleasant, and the Washington county have increased that sum by the offering of two thousand dollars, making in all four thousand dollars. The conviction of all parties implicated in the foul deed, who have not yet been captured. Why a hearing was to be had here we know not, neither did the worthy District Attorney of Washington county, Hon. Boyd Crumrine; but rather than interfere with the plans of the police in securing the parties, he submitted to the irregular proceeding. Yesterday, however, a company, with Sheriff Smith, visited the locality of the murder, conducting the examination on the part of the Common wealth, which was to be held to-day at Alderman Strain's office. But the prisoners had been taken out to Washington county, and their mission was in vain.

It seems to us that the case has broken down, and that the responsibility of the discharge of the prisoners has been thrown upon Washington county. There is no evidence to detain the prisoners on the charge of murder, and, as we predicted, the police here have not secured the right parties. Considering the time and place chosen, and the manner in which the track was obstructed, the preliminary care or attention on the part of the officers of the Road or the train could have prevented the accident.

Destructive Fire at Woods Run.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, a fire broke out in the receiving house of the Paragon oil works of H. R. Irwin & Co, situated at Woods Run, which totally consumed the buildings of the Company. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was noticed by any one, and, as is usual in the case of oil refineries, nothing could be done to stay the progress of the flames. There were no engines on the ground from either city and could not have done any good has they been there. The buildings of the company were all wooden structures except one, which was built of stone with wooden roof and used as a receiving house and agitating room. The length of building was about 200 feet, and 100 feet wide, and one story high, except the lower end, used as the agitating room, which was two stories high. Near this building were two stills of a capacity of 500 gallons each. There were also two warehouses, belonging to the company, one used for storing oil and the other for storing barrels. The entire length of the buildings was about four hundred feet, extending along the run. There was a large quantity of refined oil on hand and of course crude. In the setting tanks were one-hundred barrels of refined oil which was all destroyed. There was no oil in the stills, as they were filled after the last started operations. In the sheds of the company were seventy-five barrels of refined, seventy-five barrels of naphtha, filled with sixty-eight empty barrels, and eighty-two, empty, immediately outside the sheds. The main building was owned by Mrs. E. Y. Paul and insured for $2,000. The other insurance, in all, amounting to $2,000, in the United States Company of Baltimore, and some in the city of New York.

The Company had $2,500 insurance; $1,500 on buildings and improvements and $500 on stock, in the Ocean of New York, Atlantic of N. Y. and United States of Baltimore.

The total loss of the Company is about $5,000 over and above insurance. Mr. Irwin, H. F. Henry, one of the members of the firm, has been very unfortunate of late, so far as his investments in oil are concerned. In the Island Run fire, some time ago, he lost some twoor three thousand dollars worth of oil and now for a second time is a heavy loser by the burning of his property. We were not informed whether the Company intends rebuilding or not.

A New Business Publication.

The Iron City Monthly, a new publication of decided merit, has been laid on our table by the enterprising publishers, Messrs. George W. Pittock and Alexander Speer, of Pittsburgh. The work is a complete compendium of interesting facts concerning Pittsburgh and the surroundings, and is far in advance, both in point of mechanical excellence and historical and statistical importance, of any of the same nature which have appeared. One hundred and thirty-two pages are devoted to local history, railroads and steamships, municipal, State and Government offices, streets, railways, ferries, banks, places of amusement, base ball clubs, charitable and literary institutions, cemeteries, public parks and groves, and a host of miscellaneous items which will prove invaluable as reference to the business man or stranger. The photographs contained in the initial number are worth double the price of the publication. Business men should subscribe for the "Iron City" upon their tables, for the perusal of customers, while all Pittsburghers should see to it that such a commendable enterprise shall not fail. It deserves the most proper support. The book is offered for sale at the periodical depots.

Wendell Phillips on the Lost Arts.

Our readers should not forget that the above renowned gentleman of distinguished scholar lectures to-night at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Young Men's Library Association. Mr. Phillips' name should be enough to draw an overflowing house, and his lecture on the Lost Arts is one of the finest and most beautiful productions delivered by any one; his great learning enables him to treat of his subject in a masterly manner. His eloquent and beautiful delivery holds his audience in perfect rapture, so that all go to be instructed and delightfully entertained, go by all means, and as there are no secured seats, we would say to go early if you wish to secure one. We shall expect to see a crowded house.

Card.

Dr. Robert Hunter desires to notify his patients and those requiring his professional services, that he will definitely close his office in Pittsburgh on the evening of Saturday, April 27th.

Dr. Hunter's practice is confined to affections of the chest, viz: Sore throat, catarrh, Pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and heart disease.

Parties wishing to avail themselves of Dr. Hunter's services in these affections should embrace the earliest opportunity, before his return to New York, for a personal interview and examination, after which they can pursue the treatment without difficulty.

Incendiaries in Butler County.

There appears suddenly to have broken loose in Butler county a band of lawless villains who seem determined to malicious ly lay waste the barns of the farmers residing thereabouts. We learn by private letter that there have been no less than four barns destroyed started there within the present week. Among the property destroyed was the large and valuable barn of the Zelienople Orphan's Home. We sincerely trust the guilty wretches may be detected and visited with the merited penalties of the law.

Grand Festival.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week the "A. E. R. L." Association, which is composed of our very best colored citizens, will hold at City Hall a grand anniversary festival. The arrangements for guaranteeing a pleasant time are upon the most liberal scale, and from the well known character of the gentlemen interested in the affair we can safely promise an evening of rare enjoyment to all who favor the festival with their presence.

Will our people not lend their aid in sustaining such an organization.

The Recent Railroad Disaster—Continuation of the Coroner's Inquest.

The jury, impanneled to inquire into the cause of the death of Martin L. Bracken, by the railroad accident at Turtle Creek, last Sunday week, met at the Mayor's office last evening at half-past seven o'clock, when the following testimony was taken:

Simon Dobson, sworn.—Am Supervisor by occupation; know nothing of the accident except that it occurred; saw the men repairing the track at that point; were new ties there and a keg of spikes; these were thrown off the train by the ballaster and delivered at different points by the hand car; I suppose there were extra rails there but did not see them; passed along there, on Saturday, but did not stop; I feel certain these things were not left there by the ballast train.

Michael Madigan, sworn—Am foreman of Sub-Division No. 92; brought the material there on Saturday afternoon, the 6th; delivered some ties there; Mr. Dobson ordered the ties handy for that point in large quantities, and we took them to whatever point they were required; had been engaged in so doing all the week before; we would take out defective ties and replace them by good ones; there was one rail there and a keg of spikes, about one hundred feet west of where the obstruction was laid on; I superintended the repairing of the track after the accident; left the spikes between the tracks and laid the keg down on its side; it was in a ditch between the tracks, so that no train could touch it.

Richard Bricker, sworn—Work at repairing the track; worked on Saturday near the accident; left off some ties there and maybe about three rails about 250 yards west of the place of accident; left also a keg of spikes about 250 yards from the place of accident; left some ties where the accident occurred; had no time or chance of leaving any railroad iron there; there were no old ties in

CONSTITUTIONS.

It has become fashionable for Democrats of both the great geographical sections of the country to speak of the National Constitution as something so venerable and sacred as to hold an unique position midway between enactments having their source in Divine inspiration, and those having their root in human wisdom. Without claiming for it precisely a heavenly infallibility, they exalt it above all purely earthly productions, and hold it to be a species of sacrilege to subject it to revision, so as to meet the growth of political society and promote and defend the new wants of multiplied populations. If the Democrats of either of these great sections had in years past and gone, evinced the same high respect for the Constitution, their present assumptions of regard for it would stand in a different and better light than it is now possible to view them. While their zeal and devotion would have been ranked among blind infatuations, they would have received credit for feeling what they professed. Now they fall under the imputation of professing a sentiment they do not cherish, and claiming a degree of civism which is not in their natures.

For thirty years, in contradiction of the plain letter of the Constitution; of contemporaneous exposition, and of legislative and judicial precedent, they endeavored to educe from the instrument the most detestible despotism that ever afflicted any portion of the human race. Failing in this, they labored so to construe it as to emasculate all its power and authority, and make its overthrow a pastime. Failing in this, likewise, they made furious war against it, not with words only, but by powerful armies—the Southern portion of them, openly and in the face of the Sun; the Northern portion, covertly and by stealth. As they succeeded no better in this, they have changed their tactics, and pretend to be so enamored of the Constitution as to be able to give no rest to their minds or bodies through intense anxiety to plead for it, to swagger for it, to denounce for it, and to do everything else except to regulate their conduct and doctrines in conformity with it.

Now, we never have pretended any such consuming zeal for the Constitution, for the simple reason that we have not felt it. The Constitution is only a law, enacted with unusual formalities. The product of human intellects, it partakes of the infirmities of the minds by which it was framed. Like all mundane things it becomes effete, more or less, in its different parts, and needs reinvigorating by lopping away the limbs out-grown, and engrafting new provisions, suited to the fresh requirements. This was the view Mr. JEFFERSON, when he said every nation needed a revolution every twenty years. Not that he supposed a struggle of arms was essential every two score years to purify political institutions. There are other and healthier revolutions than those of violence; revolutions that grow out of advancing ideas and elevating sentiments. These are normal in their origin and development, corresponding with the gentler and more beneficent processes of nature. It is in obedience to the same conception that the present Constitution of New York provides that a Convention of the People shall be held every twenty years for its revision. In accordance with this provision a Constitutional Convention will soon assemble, and the indications are that numerous and important changes will be made in the organic law.

It would be well if a similar stipulation existed in the Federal Constitution. However that instrument may have been adapted to the condition of the people at the time it was promulgated, a period has arrived in which large modifications and improvements are needful in it to meet the progress in population, in interests, in ideas, and in emotions. The old bottle has been found incapable of holding the new wine. This does not proclaim that the bottle never was good, but that having performed all the service possible, a new vessel, of greater capacity, is now indispensable.

This view, we are aware, is offensive to political pharisees. They hold that institutions are supreme; men and women altogether subordinate; that Sundays and Constitutions are intrinsic and personal, not for use and convenience; and that human beings were created that these might be observed and respected. If this race of formalists would only die out they would lay the world under unspeakable obligations.

The present Constitution of Pennsylvania was framed thirty years ago. Since then, though some changes have been made in it, there has been no thorough and searching revision. It needs a general overhauling, and would get it if a Convention should assemble. The late Legislature was pressed to provide for the election of such a body; but the plunderers, inside and outside the chambers, perceived that by this step their craft would be endangered, both immediately and for all the future. They took alarm, and suppressed the movement, lest the source of their gains should be cut off. From this, people of the Commonwealth ought to take a hint. The only cure for Legislative corruption, which has become so rank and unblushing as to scoff at exposure and defy responsibility, lies through such a change as shall make all who hold or want corporate franchises independent of the General Assembly. The brokers of legislation, and members who traffic in votes, will never voluntarily relinquish their opportunities. A power which they dare not resist must constrain the order for a Convention, and then the people can apply the remedy.

It has transpired that many of the colored delegates to the recent mass convention of conservatives at Nashville were forced by threats from the whites not only to attend but to take prominent part in the deliberations of that body. The Times of Nashville publishes several cards from conservative delegates setting forth that their lives and property would have been placed in jeopardy had they not consented to participate in the convention. The game of the rebel leaders may succeed for a while in making a show of strength among the negroes, but when that class of voters learn that they will be protected in the exercise of their rights as citizens, and their persecutors punished, the conservative cause cannot rely much upon the black element of the South.

GOV. A. J. HAMILTON has arrived at New Orleans to enter upon his duties as Register of Bankruptcy for the Second District of Louisiana. He was warmly welcomed by the loyal citizens of that neighborhood.

THE appointment of Colonel JOHN M. SULLIVAN, of Butler county, to the position of Collector of the Twenty-third District, gives very general satisfaction to the Union Republicans hereabouts. Colonel SULLIVAN for years served with fidelity and distinction in the War Department at Washington, and has ever been a true and fearless advocate of the great principles of republicanism. He enters on his duties free and untrammelled, neither having sacrificed his honor for the position, nor pledged the emoluments of the office for the appointment. His nomination was unsolicited, and made through the influence of the leading Republicans of the State, in order to reward the services of the recipient. With such appointments the President might succeed in winning back at least a portion of the people's respect he has forfeited. The new Collector will enter upon his duties on the first of next month.

IT will be remembered that an agency of the Juarez Mexican Republic, for the sale of bonds, was established in New York. Thirty millions of the paper was offered for sale and a great part taken by capitalists at from ten to sixty cents on the dollar. The interest is now overdue and there are no prospects for its payment. Many of the coupons have been protested. At best Mexican loans are not safe investments, and this loan promises to prove dead stock on the hands of the speculating purchasers.

GEO. W. DEMERS has been admitted into the firm owning the Albany, (N. Y.) Journal. He assumes entire editorial control, George Dawson retiring, although still retaining an interest in the paper. This puts at rest the story that Chas. A. Dana was to enter into the proprietorship of that journal.

HENRY BOWEN, a venerable citizen of Rhode Island, died on the 16th inst., at Providence. He had the honor of filling, for thirty consecutive years, the office of Secretary of State, resigning on account of ill health in 1849, since which time he had been living a retired life.

THE loyal press of Tennessee claim that BROWNLOW, "first in the hearts of loyalists," will be re-elected by a majority of twenty-five thousand. The Democracy could have placed no weaker candidate in the field than the one they have chosen—EMERSON ETHERIDGE.

THE speculators are combined to run up the price of flour even higher than panic rates. There are no reasons why that commodity should be held at such prices, except that the stock is mainly held by unprincipled dealers.

Great Remedy for Consumption:

"I was reduced so low with consumption that I was unable to leave my bed, and my physicians informed me that they could do nothing more for me, my case being utterly hopeless, that I had but a short time to live. At this stage I was induced to try Rev. E. A. WILSON'S REMEDY, and to-day I am as well as any man in the world. If there are any who doubt this statement, they can call and see me, (as per above address) and I will give them all the particulars of my extraordinary recovery.

A TIMELY WARNING.

It is especially important at this time, when the markets of the United States are flooded with the direst poisons, under the name of imported liquors, and when domestic compounds purporting to be medicinal, but not a whit less pernicious, are heralded to the world as "sovereign remedies," that the public should fully understand the fact. Be it known, then, that while all the diffusive stimulants called liquors are impure, and all the Foules containing alcohol are manufactured with a fiery article containing sumph oil, fusel oil, a mortal poison, HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS contain none of these things, but are a combination of pure essence of Rye with the pure juices of the most valuable stomachic, antibilious and aperient herbs and plants, and that as a safe and rapid remedy for Dyspepsia and all its kindred complaints, this preparation stands before the world without a rival or competitor. Its sales to-day are equal to the combined sales of all the other tonics advertised in the United States, and the certificates which authenticate its usefulness are signed by individuals of the highest standing in every profession and calling and walk of life. Beware of imitations and imposters.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is like wise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidneys of years' standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodhue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, pleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravity affections, bloody urine, and when there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and like that of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle, six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the groes, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. apl20

AN ORDINANCE for the Grading, Paving and Curbing of St. Mary's Avenue, from Penn street to Foster street, the right of way of Lafayette alley and Hamlet's alley, in the Borough of Lawrenceville.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Lawrenceville, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of the Burgess, in connection with the Street Committee, to advertise for bids for the work to be done, and to invite and receive proposals for the grading, paving and curbing of St. Mary's avenue, from the Allegheny Railroad, Penn street, to Foster street; Beltzhoover street, from its intersection with Butler street to the Allegheny Railroad; Foster street, from its junction with Lafayette alley to Boundary street; Washington street, from the intersection with Charlotte street, to Butler street; Lafayette alley, from the Allegheny Railroad, to Penn street; and Hamlet's alley, from its intersection with Foster street to Butler street, and to contract therefor with the lowest and best bidder, at their discretion.

SEC. 2. That the cost and expense of grading said streets and alleys shall be paid in the manner now provided by law, and for the purpose of defraying the cost and expense of grading and curbing said streets and alleys, there be and is hereby levied and assessed a tax of three mills assessed on the several lots bounding and abutting on said streets and alleys, in proportion to the feet bounding and abutting on said streets and bounding and abutting as aforesaid.

SEC. 3. That when the whole expense of said improvements are fully ascertained, it shall be the duty of the Borough Regulator to assess and levy the same on the several lots and parts of lots and ground bounding and abutting on said streets and alleys, and the owners or reputed owners of said lots respectively, according to the rate of assessment hereinbefore stipulated, and thereupon to give notice thereof to the owner or owners of said lots respectively, or their agents, if known, and make returns thereof to the Treasurer of said Borough.

SEC. 4. That it shall be the duty of the Treasurer, upon the return of the Regulator, to notify the parties on whom assessments have been made, that unless the same is paid within thirty days afterwards notice, the amounts thereof will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor for collection, in the manner prescribed by law.

Advertising and its Results.

From every section of the country come testimonials of the advantages derived from a well regulated system of advertising. A surer or safer investment for business men cannot well be imagined. It puts them before the public in a beneficial light, they become "known and read of all men," and reap an abundant harvest from the seed thus sown. There can be no doubt of the fact; patrons declare it; newspapers assert it; and experience conclusively proves it. Here are a few cases gathered from various sources illustrating this point.

The Adams (N. Y.) Visitor speaks of an eminent Bostonian who had regarded an advertisement in a newspaper as a personal invitation to call and said: "While I sometimes hesitate about entering a store, the proprietors of which have not thus sent their cards to my residence, I always feel certain of a cordial welcome from the members of an advertising firm."

"A shrewd business man once advertised a trifling article in a manner which could scarcely prove remunerative. His neighbors expressed their regret at his folly, but he appeared contented. Though his gross sales of the article did not cover the cost of his advertising, he attracted a new class of people to his store, and his shrewdness paid him in a very short time, for new eyes saw what he had to offer in addition to the specially advertised, and new purses came under contribution to him.

The Indianola (Ind.) "Visitor," relates this incident: "In 1861, a young man was employed in this place by Mr. Smith, at the moderate sum of $1 per week. In the fall of 1862 he went into a small business on his own hook. In 1863 Smith took a co-partnership with his brother. When the Senior of the firm threw his little bark on the sea of public trade, we suggested to him how to advertise. He took our advice and followed it strictly to the letter—using more printer's ink than all the business firms of Indianola combined. The result of our advice, together with the honesty, integrity, and go-aheadativeness of this firm, has given them a competency and foot hold among the people of Warren that will tell 'big' in after years."

A Western cotemporary says: "Advertising is to the trader what ploughing is to the farmer. There would be some natural protection if the soil of the earth was never broken, and it would hold about the same relation to the production of a well cultivated garden, that the profits of unadvertised trade do to advertised."

Another declares that, "Now-a-days nobody but the slowest dried up old fossil ever questions the advantage of advertising. One might with as much propriety doubt the evidence of his own eyes and ears. The style and extent of a business man's advertising is a sure test of his energy and capacity, the quantity and quality of his stock, and the amount of business he transacts."

Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, tenders his advice to the public, "Never buy goods of those who don't advertise. They sell so little that they have to sell dear."

Says the Delaware Republican: "We believe it is a rule, with scarcely an exception, that in every community the merchants who advertise are successful, and those who do not are unsuccessful. They are the men who keep the best stock of goods and sell cheapest."

The following comes from a New York paper: The changes going on in society make it necessary for a business man to keep before the people. If he expects to succeed in trade, a fair statement of what he is doing, and will do, is necessary for himself and those dealing with him. He must make this statement, and does do it in some way if he sells anything."

People are quite apt to go where their attention is called, and if they find things as represented they will purchase there in preference to spending their time seeking elsewhere.

A Young Girl Ransomed from Indians.

In one of the raids made by the Comanche Indians, some months ago, two young girls named Metzger were captured on the outskirts of Fredericksburg, Texas, a few miles distant. Anna, the youngest, was ransomed, and is now at her home. Her sister was murdered. When they were captured both were mounted on stolen horses and instantly hurried away. The elder sister told Anna that they must escape or die; that she would not be carried off alive, and that she preferred death to the fate that was evidently in store for them. Twice she jumped from the horse and endeavored to reach the chaparrel, but was each time brought back and placed upon the horse. Again she attempted to escape, which so exasperated the savages that they sprang upon her and buried their tomahawks in her brain. Half dead with fright and horror, Anna suffered herself to be carried off without once attempting to escape. After two weeks the huts of the Indians were reached. Here the unfortunate girl was treated horribly. Her hair was cut off, and several times she was beaten and lacerated in a terrible manner. At length she was restored to her friends upon their payment of the bounty fixed upon by her captors. The other day Bishop Dubois performed the rite of confirmation at Fredericksburg, and Anna Metzger was one of the first confirmed.

A Young Woman Buried Alive.

A friend gives us the account of a most terrible case of the burial of a handsome young lady at Jacksonville, Illinois. Some time last summer a young lady of seventeen years of age, suffering with the toothache, went to bed with a small vial of chloroform for the purpose of quieting her tooth. In the morning she was found to all appearances dead, which was confirmed by the opinions of several physicians who were called to examine the body. She was then buried. A few days since her relatives were about to remove from Jacksonville, having located in another State, and had the remains of the young lady exhumed for the purpose of taking them to their new home. Curiosity prompted the opening of the coffin, when they were horror stricken on finding the corpse turned over, both hands full of hair and her clothing torn to shreds, revealing the horrible truth that the young lady had been buried alive. The chloroform had placed her in a deep trance, the awakening from which was in her coffin and grave. The lady was engaged to be married at the time of her supposed death. A more heartsickening case we never remember to have read or heard of.—[Indianapolis Journal, April 9th.

The Subterranean City in Asia.

As appears from an article in the Russian Invalide, the subterranean city found on the banks of the Sir-Darya, in Asia, has been repeatedly discovered before, but as soon forgotten. It is called Yana Kent, i. e., Newtown, and is supposed to have been constructed by the Persian tribe which, under the name of Sartes, even now forms the bulk of the Sedentary portion of the population of Turkistan. Yana Kent, with several cities in that neighborhood, is believed to have been destroyed by the Tartars on their first appearance in the country, and, besides extensive ruins, includes a cemetery at some distance from the buildings. The Kirghisian nomads, now scouring that region, have their own way of solving that antiquarian problem, holding that the town in primeval times was destroyed by the avenging spirit to punish the sins of the inhabitants. According to them, these people have been swept away from the face of the earth. Russian travelers have more than once noticed the spot, but no excavations of any magnitude were ever made.

A FLORENCE letter says: "At the time I write, five out of seven of those lodged in the hotels of Florence are Americans, and, so far as I know, the same is true of the other principal cities of Europe. No one now disputes the truth of the old phrase—"the universal Yankee nation." John Bull may be jealous of it, and hate it, but the fact at every turn is thrust into his face and into his eyes. He is obliged now to take the second place. Boniface bows are profoundly to Jonathan's well-filled purse as to the Cockney's extraordinary whiskers or to his still more extraordinary shoes. Our countrymen are reckless of expenditure on their travels as well as at home, and if there is one place better than another, they will have it if money can buy it. At Rome, as well as here, while the hotels are filled with Americans, the English with an eye to wise economy, are more generally lodged in apartments or comfortable boarding houses."

—M. Lamartine is not likely, from present appearances, to obtain the four hundred thousand francs which the French government proposed to give him, the committee who have the bill in charge having sent it back to the Council of State with an amendment proposing an annuity of twenty-five thousand francs, instead of the donation. M. Lamartine would not accept such a beggarly sum, if only for the reason that it would deprive him of one of his grievances.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 19, 1867.

The produce markets present no new feature worthy of special notice. There is a fair Western demand for Pittsburgh manufacturers, especially iron and nails, but in consequence of the lock-out, stocks are well nigh exhausted, and in many cases western buyers, unable to get what they want here, are obliged to go further East. Eastern iron and nails are being shipped through almost daily for the west—at the present time the steamer Ezra Porter has on board for Cincinnati one thousand kegs of eastern nails, and the Columbia, also, has eastern iron board for the Upper Mississippi. This certainly is a very bad state of affairs for Pittsburgh, the "Birmingham of America," but it seems that there is no help for it.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet here—it declined 10c per bushel in Chicago on Thursday. Oats steady but unchanged; sale of 2 cars at 65c, delivered at Penna. depot; also, small sales in store at 63 to 70. Corn is firm with a sale of 250 bush shelled at $1. Rye is in demand at $1,50, and but little offering. Barley is quiet and nominally unchanged.

FLOUR—A slight reaction has commenced in Chicago, there is a little stronger disposition to sell, but as yet prices remain unchanged. We continue to quote at $10,75 to $14,50 for Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat; and $18 to $19 for Fancy Brands. Rye Flour, $9.

PROVISIONS—Is quiet but steady and unchanged—9½ to 10 for Shoulders; 13½ to 14c for Ribbed and 12½@13c for Clear Sides; 14 to 14½c for Plain Hams; 13½ to 14c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 16½ to 16¾ for Canvassed. Lard, 13 to 13½c, and Mess Pork $23 to $23,50.

SEEDS—Timothy seed is less active but unchanged—small sales at $13 to $13,50. Timothy is quiet with small sales in store at $3 and Flaxseed in demand but scarce.

BUTTER—Was in rather better demand to-day, but as the arrivals continue liberal, prices are no better, and prime to choice Roll may be quoted at 30c to 35c.

EGGS—There was considerable of a panic in the Egg market to-day, in consequence of heavy arrivals, prices dropped from 35 to 30c per dozen, and we are cognizant of offers and sales at 18, though 20 was the general asking price. It is predicted that if the weather continues pleasant, Eggs will be low this week, and possibly 12½.

POTATOES—In good supply, but with a steady local demand, prices are maintained—sales are quoted at $2,00, on track, and 90c to $1 in store.

GREEN APPLES—In better supply and a little dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $4,00 to $5 per bbl for good, and $3½ to $4 for choice.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged. Fair baled is selling on track at $23 to $24, and prime may be quoted at $25 to $26.

OIL—Lard Oil is reported steady at 90 for No. 2, and 95@100 for No. 1.

PIG LEAD—Last sales at 10½.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull and unchanged.

CORN MEAL—Sales at $1,10 per bush.

New York Financial Matters.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Good Friday was very generally observed in financial circles, the stock, gold, exchange and mining board being closed. Sub-treasury and banks were open for business, as the day was not a legal holiday, but bankers and broker's offices were closed except for the payment of drafts and fulfilling matured contracts. The demand for money is very light and large amounts were offered at 6@5 per cent. on Governments, while 5@7 are rates on stock collaterals. The failure of Gilbert, Elliott & Co., reported yesterday, is quite active in court yard of gold exchange and advanced. Private telegrams from Frankfort, Berlin and Hamburg, report the Sterling moderately active and firm, at 9@.

Governments firm but quiet; Coupon Sixes unless 109@109,10 for new; Five-twenties 109,10@110 for old; 107@107,10 for new; Coupon ten forties 105,40@105; Seven-thirties—first series 106@106; second and third series 105,40@105,50. It is reported that preparations are being made for the shipment of specie to-morrow upon the advance of double eagles at London to £3 17s. 10½d. Shipments probably are merely nominal to meet the demand for the purpose of emigration, and not to be regarded as indicative of any movement of importance. There were a number of stock operations on Broad street. The day's sales were 30,000 shares. The transfer books were generally closed. The price of Central advanced 98, but dropped to 97. Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, April, 17.—The weather was clear, mild and spring-like. Buyers were out in force, and, with a full supply of desirable stock, and under continued favorable advices from the east, trade opened sharp, and up to about 3 o'clock p. m. the yards presented a very animated appearance; and previous rates were thought to be sustained. Later, however, with a large supply already in the yards, and the fresh receipts still pouring in, an easier feeling obtained, and the closing sales exhibit a decline of 5@10c per 100 pounds. The receipts, though large, were of a much better than the average quality, other's se the deficiency would have been much more serious. The inquiry was principally on eastern account, and the bulk of the offerings were taken up for the packers of New York, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Albany and Philadelphia, at a range of $7@7,50 for medium to fair shipping grades, and $8@8,50 for good to extra fat bullocks. Among the droves especially worthy of mention, were 129 extra "still fed" steers. This lot was fattened at Lake Forest by Alanson King, and was sold by Rubble to Waixell & Reineman, at $8,75 per 100 pounds. Another drove of 82 head, extra smooth fat Illinois steers, averaging 1234 pounds, sold at $8,80. The market closes weak, with 1500 head unsold.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant twelve feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening, and a half feet reported at Oil City. The weather yesterday was cloudy and warm, with indications of rain.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The side-wheel steamer Ezra Porter will positively leave for Cincinnati and St. Louis this Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and shippers will please have bills of lading on board by that hour, and oblige

J. H. PORTER, Captain.

There has not been a single arrival or departure since our last report, aside from the regular packets. The Robt. Moore arrived and departed for Portsmouth, as did also the Ingomar, for Portsmouth.

The Urilda and Ida Rees No. 2 arrived from Oil City during Thursday night, and the latter boat clearing again last evening. The Monongahela river boats appear to be doing a fair business, and it is said that the "People's Line Company" alone they took to running a boat, are making it pay.

The Columbia, Capt. Feed, is filling up steadily for the Upper Mississippi, as is also the Importer, Capt. Noss, for St. Louis. These are both good boats. The America, Capt. Golding, will be the first boat out for New Orleans.

Patrick McCall, the fireman of the towboat Alex Chambers, who was so terribly injured by the explosion of that boat on Thursday, died on Friday morning. The Chambers is now lying at the Allegheny wharf, below the Fund Street Bridge.

Capt. Hutchinson, principal owner of the Quickstep and Charmer, and one of the owners of the Great Republic, left Evansville for Pittsburgh on Monday last evening.

Capt. Dryden telegraphs under date of Wednesday, as follows: River on a stand, with seven feet over the rocks on the falls. Chest and plenty of water. The Silver Lake and Westmoreland passed down. The towboats Collier, Lake Erie No. 3, Tigress, W. H. Brown and Antelope, left for Pittsburgh, all with tows of empty barges except five with iron ore. The Silver Spray passed up last night

From our Louisville exchanges of Wednesday, we extract the following items: The Hornet was busy working away at one of the coal barges that are stranded at the head of the falls. She had not succeeded in getting it off up to the time we left, but probably made it easily, as the river was rising.

The towboat Tigress is at the foot of the canal with nine empty barges, the Lake Erie with nine empty ones, and the Antelope with six model barges loaded with iron ore for Pittsburgh, all waiting for enough water to become up over the falls. The Metairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: A very exciting scene occurred on the Talisman yesterday, before the reached Canal Dover, out of sight from many eyes. A child, three or four years of age, belonging to a family emigrating to Missouri, strayed away from the other children while the parents were at dinner, and for some time could not be found, although passengers and crew, headed by the great grief of the mother, searched all over the boat for it. It seemed almost certain that the child must have fallen overboard, and the poor, distressed mother, in the agony of despair, cried out, "Oh my child, my child, I shall never see him again!" The whole family seemed to suffer more than ordinary grief, as the child seemed to have been an especial favorite, and the passengers and crew joined in earnest sympathy. At this juncture a boy came running up and said he had a hope, proposed another and more careful search, and, after looking in six or seven cabin locations, in the engine room, where the lost was found, sitting being a door which had previously been opened while searching for him, but which had screened him from observation before. Father, mother, brothers and sisters crowded around the little lost one, expressing the wildest joy, while the entire cabin rang with shouts, accordingly from one to another, unable to understand what all the excitement was about, and doubtless believing they had all lost their senses.

A St. Louis letter, under date of Monday, says: The Mississippi is rising very fast, with a fine river and plenty of water. Several boats are plenty, but freights scarce. They are taking freight for eight cents per pound. Ohio River freights, 6@7c.

The Champion and Bellevernon are up for Cincinnati, and will leave Friday. The Wild Duck and barges leave Carondelet this evening (Monday) for Pittsburgh, with 1000 tons of ore, pig iron and flour.

From New Orleans on the 13th, the Arena Hill brought eight hundred bales of cotton, the Pauline Carroll a heavy consignment (1,500 tons freight) including seventy-eight head of cattle; the St. Charles seven hundred tons of cotton, and the Wm. Cramer six hundred tons of freight, including 12,000 sacks of corn.

The Memphis Appeal, of the 14th, says: In our paper of yesterday we stated that the steamer Pioneer had been stolen at Vicksburg. Some days since, a steamer arrived at that place, who went in pursuit of the stolen steamer, returned on the 10th with the boat and the crew. She was overtaken near the Lake Providence Narrows. The party are all under arrest.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday, says: The Keystone State, Capt. Ford, of the Allegheny river packet, Peerless, came down with Captain Joe Brown on the Ida Rees. Capt. Ford left Oil City at 4 o'clock yesterday. Captain Pres. Lodwick has sold his interest—one-fourth—in the Portsmouth packet Boreman, to Capt. Wm. H. Moore, of Portsmouth, at the rate of $10,000 for the entire boat. Captain E. B. Moore succeeds Capt. Pres. Lodwick in the counter with Boreman & Co. Capt. Lodwick has resnipped forty tons of freight on the Ida Rees yesterday. The Alice N. and the Ruth are now at Parkersburg. The Hudson, for New York, Capt. H. Clay Richmond, will follow the Shamrock in the "Express Line" to St. Louis. The Hudson is a fine boat, and Frank Marratta, is also loading for St. Louis, and will leave with dispatch. A portion of the Lake Rees' freight consists of 1,000 hogs—beside bacon, 500 barrels pork, 50 bales cotton, 200 empty barrels, and 25 barrels whiskey. She also receives 1,000 sacks corn at Portsmouth for Pittsburgh.

The lost was found, sitting being a door which had previously been opened while searching for him, but which had screened him from observation before. Father, mother, brothers and sisters crowded around the little lost one, expressing the wildest joy, while the entire cabin rang with shouts, accordingly from one to another, unable to understand what all the excitement was about, and doubtless believing they had all lost their senses.
